Welcome Message

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the organizing committee, it is our great pleasure and privilege to invite you to participate in the 17th International Biophysics Congress (IBC) (IUPAB), which will be held in Beijing from Oct. 30th to Nov. 3rd, 2011.

During the last 20 years, Biophysics has played an ever more important role in the social and economic development of China, both as a scientific discipline and a service-providing profession. Many excellent scientific results have been achieved in the Biophysics research area during this period, and Chinese scientists in this field have published numerous papers in leading international journals, thus increasing their visibility. The main goal of the 17th IBC (IUPAB) is to maximize this opportunity to exchange ideas and discuss new advances with fellow scientists from all over the world. We also aim to encourage co-operation and interaction among the international Biophysical community, as well as build friendships.

Beijing is one of China's most ancient cities and oldest capitals. The city has a unique history encompassing more than 3,000 years, as well as a rich cultural heritage with many world-renowned historical sites located in and around the city, including the Great Wall, the Forbidden City, the Temple of Heaven, the Summer Palace and the grand Tian'anmen Square. Moreover, Beijing has undergone many changes in recent years and is becoming a thoroughly modern and cosmopolitan city. Beijing is being made to look more beautiful and pollution is being reduced, while public transport is considerably improved, especially the subway system. The warm and welcoming people, modern hotel accommodation, delicious food and the tremendous success of the 2008 Olympic Games all help to make Beijing the perfect venue for our 2011 Congress.

Under the auspices of the IUPAB, and with our experience of organizing large international scientific conferences, we will make every effort to organize a memorable and successful 17th IBC (IUPAB). We believe that the conference will not only benefit participants from all over the world in terms of academic exchange and developing international cooperation, but will also provide an opportunity for participants to experience the unique blend of historic and modern culture in Beijing.

We look forward to welcoming you in China later this year. With your participation and support, we have no doubt that the 17th IBC (IUPAB) will be a great success.

Yours sincerely,

Call for abstracts

Please visit <http://www.17ibc.org/> and follow the detailed guidelines for submitting your abstract(s). Please note that the deadline for abstract submission is June 30, 2011.

Acceptance Notification

Notification of the abstract acceptance will be sent to the authors by e-mail around August 15, 2011.

For further assistance, please contact the Secretariat by emails:

Ms. Shunyi Wei, wsy@moon.ibp.ac.cn
Ms. Wenli Xu, findwayfrom@163.com

Young Scientist Travel Awards:

Young Scientist Travel Awards will be available for students and postdocs who present a talk or poster during the 17th IBC (IUPAB). Those interested in applying for an award should submit an application form along with their abstract before June 30, 2011. The application form can be downloaded from <http://www.17ibc.org>

Registration

Each participant of 17th IBC (IUPAB), including the speakers, is requested to complete a Registration Form. It is expected that at least one author per abstract should be registered for the Conference. Please visit the website at: <http://www.17ibc.org> to complete your online registration and accompanying payment.

Registration must be received by August 15 to qualify for the discounted rates. Early registration rates are substantially lower than the onsite rate. After August 16, online registration will continue to be available at higher rates. Please contact Ms. Yu Shen if you need any assistance with registration and payment:

Registration Fee (in RMB, Chinese currency)

	Early Registration	After August 16, 2011	On-Site
Regular participant	RMB 3700	RMB 4000	RMB 4500
Commercial Institution /Company	RMB 4500	RMB 5000	RMB 5500
Student participant	RMB 1600	RMB 2000	RMB 2300
Accompanying persons	RMB 1000	RMB 1000	RMB 1100

The registration fee includes the following:

Entitlements of full registered participants and students:

- All scientific sessions
- Conference materials (including conference bag, abstract and program book)
- Welcome reception
- Coffee and tea during refreshment breaks
- Lunches from Oct. 31st -Nov. 3rd, 2011

Entitlements of registered accompanying persons:

- Welcome reception
- Lunches from Oct. 31st -Nov. 3rd, 2011

Banquet:

The Conference Banquet will be held inside the Bird's Nest at 7:00 PM on November 2nd, 2011. Please note that the cost of the banquet is RMB 400 yuan per person and is not included in the registration fee. Payment may be made at the time of registration or banquet tickets may be purchased on-site.

Please note:

- Postdoctoral participants are regarded as regular participants.
- Student participants must be full-time students enrolled in universities or equivalent institutions. Student registration must be accompanied with a copy of student identification card or a letter of verification from a department chairperson or faculty/research advisor and sent to CICCST/Ms. Yu Shen by e-mail or fax (+86-10-62174126).

Confirmation

Your registration and hotel booking will be confirmed by Ms. Yu Shen in writing upon receipt of your on-line registration and payments. Please present the confirmation letter to the Registration Desk upon arrival.

Registration Desk

All participants are asked to register at the Conference Registration Desk, which will be located in the lobby of CNCC on October 30th, 2011. The registration desk will move up to the 3rd floor near the symposia meeting rooms from October 31st-Nov. 3rd, 2011.

The onsite registration will be open on Oct. 30th from 9:00 AM- 20:00 PM. It will be open on Oct. 31st, Nov. 1st, Nov. 2nd from 8:00 AM - 5:30 PM; and Nov. 3rd from 8:00 AM - 12:00 PM.

Conference Information

Conference Venue:

The conference venue for the 17th IBC (IUPAB) will be the China National Convention Center (CNCC) which is located on a landmark site adjacent to the National Stadium (Bird's Nest) and the National Aquatics Center (Water Cube) on the Olympic Green boulevard. CNCC is an ideal modern location for congresses, international meetings, exhibitions and other events, providing world-class services and unparalleled facilities.

Sitting in the center of the Olympic commercial circle, CNCC is surrounded by a range of over 30 three, four and five-star hotels with more than 10,000 hotel rooms within 5 km. As it is located between Beijing's fourth and fifth ring roads, CNCC boasts an enviable location. It is about 30 minutes drive to the airport and the subway station is connected with CNCC's basement which allows rapid and convenient travel to the city center, the airport, the Beijing Railway station, the central business district, China's silicon valley (Zhongguancun), and many tourist attractions such as Tian'anmen Square, the Forbidden City and the Summer Palace. It takes only one hour from CNCC to the renowned Great Wall and Ming Tombs.

Official Language

The official language of 17th IBC (IUPAB) will be English. We regret that simultaneous interpretation will not be provided.

General Scientific Program

The scientific program will be composed of plenary lectures, invited session talks, oral and poster presentations.

Poster Presentation

Posters are a visual and concise means of presenting one's work in progress or an overview of a topic. Please note that poster presentations will be regarded as an important element of the 17th IBC (IUPAB) and all participants are highly encouraged to attend poster presentations during the conference.

A display board measuring 90 cm wide by 120 cm high will be provided for each poster. Poster boards will be numbered according to the numbering scheme in the abstract book.

The posters presentation will be divided into two sessions during the conference with odd numbers and even numbers. The detailed information for the display of the two sessions of the posters will be available on the website in September. During the designated poster sessions, the presenters are requested to remain in front of their poster boards to meet with other attendees.

Invitation Letter

An official letter of invitation will be sent to the participants upon request by Ms. Yu Shen/CICCST, the Conference Secretary. The receipt of such a letter does not exempt the recipient from paying all registration fees and other fees.

Arrival at Conference Venue

On October 30th, 2011, the Conference Secretariat will set up a special reception place at Beijing International Airport to guide the participants to hotels and the CNCC conference venue. Transport options include the following:

A taxi service is available at the Beijing Airport. The cost from the airport to the hotel is about US$15, or RMB100 yuan. Please use the Taxi Direction Note in this circular, which can help you to go directly to your hotel.

Please be advised that you should not accept a taxi service anywhere other than at the taxi stand.

Trade exhibition and sponsorship

A Trade Exhibition will be held in conjunction with the 17th IBC (IUPAB) on the 3rd floor of CNCC. This exhibition will cover a wide range of products and services relating to the Biophysics field. The Trade Exhibition is open to any organization or company with an interest in exhibiting their products or services.

Please contact the Conference Secretariat below for further details regarding the exhibition and sponsorship:

General Information

The City

Beijing, as the capital of China, is the nation's political, economic and cultural center and is unique in its history, tradition and character. Some 3000 years ago, a small city appeared on the present site of southwest Beijing. From the 12th Century to 1911, it was the capital of the Jin, Yuan, Ming and Qing Dynasties. Now, after hosting the 2008 Olympics, Beijing is shaping itself into a thoroughly modern metropolis, covering an area of 16,800 square kilometers and encompassing a population of 13 million. You will find the city an unforgettable destination, with its ancient Great Wall, the Forbidden City and numerous palaces and temples as a reminder of dynasties lost in the mists of time. Moreover, the city has refreshed its character by the growing numbers of parks and recreational centers, the folk shows during holiday celebrations, the splendid theatrical performances, and the grand city outlook.

Passport and Visa

A valid passport and a visa are required for entry into China. Visas can be obtained from your local Chinese Embassy or the nearest Consulate General. Visitors from Japan and Singapore holding a private passport and staying in China for not more than 15 days do not need a visa. A single entry visa is generally valid for one month.

Once in China, participants are advised to carry their passports with them at all times, as they will be needed to check into hotels, book airline tickets, and change money. Early registration is advised so that adequate time is allowed for obtaining visas. Please consult the nearest Chinese diplomatic Embassy or Consulate for details if necessary.

Visa Invitation Form issued by CICCST will be sent to you on completion of the following:

1. On-line registration (providing correct fax number and mailing address)
2. Payment of the registration fee
3. Hotel reservation (as the Embassy may require a hotel booking)

It is strongly recommended that you contact the relevant Chinese Embassy in advance.

Internet Access

Wireless internet access is available in the common area on the 3rd floor of CNCC near the conference area, with a 10-minute time limit on each computer. Meanwhile, the CNCC Grand Hotel, Grand Skylight CATIC Hotel Beijing and Holiday Inn Express Beijing Minzuyuan offer internet access in all rooms.

Weather

The optimal season to visit Beijing is Autumn. Late October in Beijing is sunny, cool and comfortable. The average daily temperature is about 10°C /50°F, with highs of around 15°C /59°F and lows of around 7°C /44.6°F. It is an ideal time for tourists to enjoy the beautiful sites of Beijing.

Time Difference

Los Angeles -16 hours; London -8 hours; Berlin -7 hours; Paris -7 hours; Zurich -7 hours; Toronto -13 hours; Moscow -5 hours; Amsterdam -7 hours; Tokyo +1 hour; Sydney +2 hours; Melbourne +2 hours; Djakarta -1 hour;

Insurance

The conference organizers do not accept any liability for personal accidents or loss or damage to the private property of any participants during the conference or indirectly arising from attending the conference. It is advisable that participants should take adequate travel and health insurance before leaving their own countries.

Electricity

The electricity supply in China is generally 220V, 50Hz, AC. The Chinese standard three-pin mains socket is shown on the left. Overseas participants are advised to bring travel adaptors with them if necessary.

Currency Exchange

In China, the Renminbi (RMB) is the only currency used. Money exchange centers can be found at the airport, most hotels and large shopping centers. The exchange rate is according to the official rate (Bank of China). When exchanging money, please keep your receipt so that you can convert any remaining Chinese currency back to foreign currency upon leaving China. VISA, MasterCard, American Express are accepted in many department stores and hotels. ATMs are widely available, although it may be difficult to withdraw cash with some credit cards.

The Bank of China and most hotels can cash travelers' checks issued by any foreign banks or financial institutions. Participants will need to show their passport and pay a 0.75 percent commission. Travelers' checks signed over to a third party cannot be cashed in China, but can be presented for collection through the Bank of China.

Transportation

Transportation in Beijing is convenient, with buses, taxis, light rail, subway etc.

Bus: A bus ride in Beijing costs about 1 yuan-3 yuan depending on distance. Most city buses run from 5:30am - 22:00pm.

Taxi: Taxis are everywhere in the city and is the most convenient way to get around. Taxis charge 2.0 yuan per kilometer for the first 15 km, and then 2.4 yuan for every additional kilometer. Toll fees are an extra. It is best to carry a guide book or hotel card with the name of your destination shown in Chinese, to show the taxi driver.

Light rail: The full fare is about 3 yuan.

Subway: Beijing subway is a rapid and convenient transit network with 13 lines. The single-ride tickets costs RMB 2.00 and it is a flat fare with unlimited transfers and applies to all lines except the Airport Express, which costs RMB 25.00 per ride.

Reconfirmation of Air Ticket

You are advised to reconfirm your departing flight (both international and domestic) 72 hours in advance.

Hotel Accommodation

Hotel Reservations

The Organizing Committee has secured accommodation for participants at advantageous rates in the CNCC Grand Hotel (rated 5*), Grand Skylight Catic Hotel (rated 5*) and Holiday Inn Express (rated 3*).

Notes

1. The hotel rooms will be assigned on a "first come, first serve" basis. You are advised to book hotel rooms early.
2. The deposit will be forwarded to your hotel and deducted from your account when you check out.
3. For those who intend to share a room, please write down your roommate's name when doing online hotel reservation.

The CNCC Grand Hotel , located in the center of the Beijing Olympic Green, is a brand new deluxe international standard hotel with 420 comfortable rooms. A walkway is connected to CNCC. Individual broadband Internet access is available in each hotel room.

It is just 26 km (16 miles, 30 minute drive) to the Beijing Capital International Airport and 8 km (5 miles) to Tian'an Men Square, the heart of Beijing. Thanks to the newly-expanded subway network and particularly a subway stop at CNCC, guests can easily take the subway to the airport, downtown, central business district (CBD) as well as to world-famous tourist attractions such as the Forbidden City, Summer Palace and the Temple of Heaven. It is also extremely convenient to go to the Great Wall, a must-do while in Beijing.

Room Level	Room Rate	Rooms Available	Remarks
☐ Superior Room (twin beds)	RMB 860	100	One breakfast and service charge will be included
☐ Executive Suites	RMB 1800	4	Breakfast(s), service charge will be included with free internet access

Deposit: total room cost
